Decking Made Easy

Deck-it-Yourself is a modular self-assembly decking system that allows you to fit a professional quality deck with confidence and ease in three easy steps. All you need is a screwdriver and a spirit level. All screws are included.

Preparation

A ground level deck must be laid on compact level ground with a slight fall away from house (or any other structure) to enable the water to drain away. If it is a grass surface, remove grass and soil to a depth of approx. 75mm (3"). Cover the area to be decked with a layer of building membrane and then add approx. 75mm (3") of gravel.

Step 1

Make sure pack contains:

18 Sub-frame sections, 36 Tiles and 130 Screws

Lay out the subframe panels into your chosen deck shape.

Use the frames to experiment with various layouts to suit your location.

Step 2

Join panels (1170 x 585) using cordless screwdrivers with screws supplied. Continue until desired area and design is achieved. As the Deck-It-Yourself tiles are constructed to fit snugly and neatly into sub-frame, you can now start tiling forming a chequered or regular pattern. No further fixing required!!

Step 3

The tile pattern can be changed in minutes or additional frames and tiles can easily be added to extend your Deck-It-Yourself system.

Safety:

Wear gloves for protection and wash hands afterwards. For second tier construction consult a decking specialist.

Essential Tools:

Screwdriver and spirit level for joining of panels. Screws supplied in pack.

After Care:

Deck-It-Yourself is pressure treated and is protected for 15 years. However, to maintain its aesthetically pleasing appearance, an annual coating of approved deck oil is recommended.
